The Richmond team, Jake Wells and Secretary Woodail have had their way long enough in this league. It behoves the other managers to have a few favors come their way now.

TUG PARTY TO YORKTOWN.

The Railroad Men Have a Fine Time Sunday.

Sunday.

A few of the gentiemen connected with the Norfolk and Western railroad took an outing Sunday to Yorktown on the ting Kaile, which was placed at their disposal for the day by Mr. John Twohy, superintendent of Lambert's Point coal piers. The day was a perfect one for a good sailor, but proved rather too much for many of the landsmen. One young gentleman, who was the sickest of the party, said he understood now why Lord Cornwallis surrendered, for he himself had made an unconditional surrender of everything long before he reached Yorktown.

After visiting the monument, one of the most beautiful of design in the country, the cave of Cornwallis was explored and the Nelson house pointed out. The entire party then bathed and partook of a generous dinner.

On the return trip seasickness did not play such an important part, and the brilliant sea, with its white caps and invigorating breeze, was thoroughly enjoyed. Several persons tost their hats and the courteous captain of the ly enjoyed. Several persons lost their hats and the courteons captain of the ting stopped and lished them out, much to the amusement of the railroad men to the smusement of the railroad men who are not accustomed to having transportation delayed by lost hats. As the trip was ending the general impression seemed to be that "life on the ocean wave" was not so bad. Billing clerks thould it would be a good thing if they could bill on steamboats; dispatchers thought they never would have a collision if they had a track as broad as the Chesapeake, and the maintenance of way clerk said: "This is transportation business proper—no road bed, track or bridges to keep up." In fact every one had a delightful time, except the colored porter who was taken along. He was so sick that he called some one and said: "Tell my wite goodbye, please, and say I died game."

Much was added to the pleasure of the trip by the courtest and good na-ture of Capt. Caleb W. Goodwin of the Tug Katie and his emicient and polite crew; and as the trip ended three cheers were given to them and Mr. John Twohy, who had loaned the boat and

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

Is What the Republican National Committee is Looking Forward to.

By Southern Associated Pross.

Washington, June 17.—The Republican National Committee will probably meet in November this year, instead of December, which has been the month selected for many years pa-t.
The leaders believe that the next national convention should be held in May and, inasmuch as the national com-mittee must give six months notice for the convention, it will be necessary that the committee shall hold its meeting in November.

It is purposed by the Republican leaders to inaugurate a campaign of education. In order to make such a campaign effective it is necessary that sufficient time should elapte between the holding of the convention and election day in which to sequent the voters. tion day in which to acquaint the voters with all the facts connected with the

If the convention should meet early May there will be two months in in May there will be two months in which much work can be performed before the dog days arrive, and as many more after that period. It has been suggested by some of the members of the national committee, who are opposed to holding the convention in May, that the campaign shall begin before the delegates meet.

The forthcoming meeting of the Republican National Committee will convention.

The forthcoming meeting of the Republican National Committee will consider one question of far reaching importance to the party. At the committees last meeting which was held in this city in December, 1891, a resolution was introduced by Henry B. Payne, of Wisconsin, to base the apportion ment of delegates to the national convention on the number of votes cast for the Republican party in the presenting.

publican party in the preceding Presidential election.

It will be the most important business which will come before the committee. The sentiment in favor of the proposition seems to have grown rather than diminished during the interim.

It was contended by Mr. Payne as It was contended by Mr. Payne as well as by others who supported the resolution, that the committee as present constituted, give the delegates from strong Democratic States an influence and power which is unfair to the representatives from other States whose electoral vote is always cast for the Republican neminee.

One effect of Such a rule would be to decrease to some extent at the next convention the representation from States like New York and Illinois, inas-much as both commonwealths in 1892 cast their electorial vote for Mr. Cleveland.

Such strong Republican States as Ohio, Massachusetts and Penusylvania, would retain the present representation, if, in some cases, they did not exceed it. The proposition is therefore an interesting one and it is predicted that the committee will expend a great deal of time in its consideration.

Admiral Meade's Permission to Go Abroad Revoked. Ide's Case, By Southern Associate I Press.

WASHINGTON, June 17. - Cabled orders were to-day sent to Commander George E. Ide, of the cruiser Alert, detaching him and ordering him to report to the Navy Department. Commander Frank-lin Hanford, on duty at the New York navy yard, was ordered to succeed to the command of the Alvrt by steamer leaving New York June 30th. In tha leaving New York June 30th. In the meantime the vessel will be in charge of Lieut. C. H. C. Coffin. Commander Ide is coming home to answer charges of disrespect and discourcesy preferred by Rear Admiral Meade, who, with his squadron, was at Colon the middle of last April, crossed the isthmus with Assistant Secretary McAdoo, and in Panama met Commander Ide whose vossel was at that port.

Commander Ide greeted Mr. McAdoo very cordially, but pad no attention to the Admiral, who was at the time off his station, Commander Ide being attached to the Pacific under Admiral Beardslee. Meade at the time accused attached to the Pacific under Admiral Beardslee. Meade at the time accused Ide of discourtesy, to which Ide is reported to have reforted that he had saluted him in accordance with regulations as a ranking officer, but he was not compelled to show any particular enthusiasm. The apparent delay in acting on Admiral Meade's charges is due to the fact that under the law a copy of the charges had first to be sent copy of the charges had first to be sent to the accused and his reply received. As the Alert has been at San Juan Del Sar, Nicaragua, and protecting American interests in Ecuador, there has been an unavoidable delay.

It is evident from the action of the department that Commander ldesexpianation is not regarded as sufficient, and that he will be courtmartialed on reaching home.

It is also said that the revocation of Admiral Meade's permission to go abroad was due to the charges against lde, as the Admiral will be the principal witness for the prosecution.

Whether it is deemed probable that the inquiry which is to be instituted will result in the censure of Comman. will result in the censure of Commander ide, or will supply an additional censure against Rear Admirat Meade, is of course a matter upon which Navy officials are absointely signt.

Does Your Baby Chafe?

Does Your Baby Chafe?

A chafe on an infant is not only exceedingly painful to the little one, but a source of constant worry to the mother who has to care for it in warm weather. It is a constant drain on the nervous system of both. The dear little one cannot sleep when it suffers, nor can its mother. Why not secure the quickest and most effectual relief in existence. Quratol is a never failing cure for chafes of both infants and adults, and fleshy people will find it a great comfort in summer. Try it and you will never be without it.

Mr. John W. Cherry, ux-member of the legislature, says he had been troubled about three years with a severe chafe and had tried many remedies, with only temporary relief. He tried Quratol and was cured. He thinks Quratol the best preparation on the market. He has also tried it for chafe on his infant with the most satisfactory results.

Mr. Ira T. Helt, of 155 Duke street, Norfolk, preminent Red Man and Pythian, says: "I have used Quratol on my baby for chafing. I have used the unit my baby for chafing. I have used the unit powder, but I consider the effect of Quratol better; in fact it is the best remedy I have ever used for this purpose and I do not hesitate in fact it is the best remedy I have ever used for this purpose and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

WARNING.

The tramp life insurance agents who tries to make you believe that any other regular life insurance company pays as large dividends or surplus as the Northwestern Mutual, is guilty of deception by using misleading RATIOS, which no honest man would employ or exhibit, as they are made up to create a false impression.
